

"Done What She Could"

118/53

Scripture Lesson:- St. Mark 14: 1-9.

Text:- St. Mark 14: 8.

Introduction:- The woman with the alabaster box of ointment.

I. The Lord expects us to do what we can. We can all do something. In the south the people of a church met and debated about building a church in a neglected part of the city. They finally agreed to build if they could raise enough money out of the congregation. One said he would give so much, another and another until they had about half the amount needed. After some time a woman arose and said that her little boy had died a week ago. Said she, "It is all that I have to remember him by, but I will give the gold dollar to the cause of the church. The whole sum was raised. She had done what she could.

II.

The man who was converted thru the influence of his little daughter. She went to S.S. in a log schoolhouse. Did not want to go in. Had an impediment in his speech. He established between 1000 and 1200 Sunday schools in that part of the country. They now are flourishing churches. He used to gather the parents and tell them how he was won the Christ thru the influence of his own little girl. No impediment when he was talking of her. She hath done what she could.

III.

Tracy Turner. His home. The bad influence of it. Came to the Sunday School. I don't know any more what class he was in, but the teacher of that class.

reached him. He became a different boy. He played on our basketball team. When he graduated from the high school his parents were not at the graduation. I talked to him about going to college. Etc, etc.

There was a Sunday school teacher that did what she could.

Conclusion:- It is a great thing to lead a soul from the darkness of sin to the glorious light of the gospel of Christ. There is no greater honor than to be the instrument in God's hand of leading one person out of the kingdom of Satan into the glorious light of the gospel.

If you and I did all we could; to all the people we can, IN All the ways we can, we would see a whole lot more accomplished. Let us live, that it may be truthfully said of us, "He or she hath done what they could."
