Scripture

Text: Psalm 27: 8. "my heart said unto thee, Thy face Lord, will I seek."

Subj: The sock longfellow in his Song of Hiawatha, wrote

Ye, whose hearts are fresh & simple,
Who believe in God and Nature,
Who believe that in all ages Every human heart is human,
That in every savage bosom
There are longings, yearnings, strivings
For the good they comprehend not,
That the feeble handed and helpless,
Groping blindly in the darkness, Touch God's right hand in that darkness,
And are lifted up and strengthened.

The indication here in this poem of a universal human longing, - the longing for God.

Men are incurably religious, St. Paul remarked to men of Athens that they were of all men most religious. -

Religion is soul's instinctive response to God. Your heart, as did heart of Psalmist, has said, "thy face, Lord, will I seek!" You have felt that you needed God.

I. Men do not always do what their hearts indicate.

Has your heart responded to God. Have you sought his face?

1. men hungry hearted
for a satisfying religion.

Does your religion satisfy?

1. Desire for divine fellowship

Does it meet sin problem in your life?

Does it enable you to live victoriously?

Does it provide help in time of sorrow and trouble?

Does it provide power for you to become the person your heart cried out to be? "How art sinners - thou shalt be." - Cephas.

Will it be adequate in hour of death. - When you face the realities? Does it give you the assurance that all is well?
That to be with the Lord is far better than to be even here.
