Text: - St. John 12: 32.

Sub: - If I were to tell you this morning something of Mt. Everest, the highest peak among the mountains of the world, you would be interested and full of wonder and admiration.

I do not have a word to say about Mt. Everest, but I would say a word or two about another Mt. not as high, not as hard to climb, not as wonderful in natural grandeur, but one about which the ^{whole} world knows. That is Mt. Calvary. Mt. Calvary holds interest of world because it was there that Son of God carried his own cross. There is father in that scene that we do not appreciate. (Use illustration of young soldier about to be shot, sitting on his own coffin.)

Mr. Colvory holds our interest because it was there that Jesus was lifted up, and because he was lifted up
he draws men and saves
them who will come to him.
now man is a wonderful
being.
